Our City Comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

Glendale Seems to Be On Verge of Visit from Lady Luck

IT looks as if Glendale was beginning to be favored with a streak of good luck.

First in importance comes the statement made by Attorney Stephens, the Los Angeles city attorney, in which he expressed himself as being optimistic that the sewer proposition would be ultimately worked out to the satisfaction of both cities.

We have also been optimistic as regards the sewer. Our only worry was that politics might be allowed to interfere with good judgment. Glendale has made a proposition whereby the city of Los Angeles will gain as much as Glendale. It was inconceivable that in the face of things Los Angeles officials would refuse us our request.

* * *

WE have said many times that if the present plan of sewage disposal in Glendale were allowed to continue the results would be far more disastrous to Los Angeles than to Glendale, and we thought this fact would be one of the deciding issues.

The assurance that definite action would be given soon will be gratifying to all.

* * *

A NEW Southern Pacific station for the near future is assured. The purchasing of the two lots by the city council for the purpose of opening up Cerritos avenue settles the location problem.

Glendale has awaited this new depot for many years. We have probably gained by this delay, although it has been annoying and has put the traveling public to much inconvenience. The delay has shown the Southern Pacific officials that a depot in Glendale could be utilized to advantage by the surrounding communities and in consequence a much better building will be erected. This will be Glendale's reward for her patience.

* * *

THE signing of the contract for the purchase of the rolling stock and materials for the Glendale-Montrose railway is another definite step towards the securing of this electric line for Glendale. Officials of the company advise that the line will be in operation by January 1, which is more than welcome news.

* * *

PLANS for the power station and offices are being pushed and the actual construction work will soon be started. The buildings will be located on Glendale avenue just north of the plant of the Glendale Sheet Metal works.

DUFFENBACK TRIAL IS SET FOR TODAY

The trial of H. L. Duffenback, 1426 Western avenue, Glendale, who is charged by C. B. Robinson of 1142 San Rafael, with attacking him with a long-handled shovel, according to Judge Lowe, is being held in the Glendale recorder's court today.

TWINING ARRAIGNS TELEPHONE

Committee of Realtors Is Appointed to Investigate

HARDING RECEPTION

Southern Pacific Park and Depot Site to Be Probed

An investigation into the telephone service in Glendale and an effort to have that service improved was decided upon by the members of the Glendale Realty board at its meeting Wednesday noon. The following committee was appointed for that purpose: W. L. Twining, chairman; George D. McDill, J. F. McClish and James Pearson.

In presenting the matter to the board Mr. Twining said:

"The telephone service in Glendale needs repairing. If there is a city in Southern California that is getting worse service along this line than Glendale I wish you would show it to me. It's simply rotten—and it's getting worse. The worse feature comes in the inability of the company to provide telephones for those desiring them. The people of the Verdugo Woodlands are using phones on 10-party lines and all of them are full. The cable for better service was delivered in that section about two years ago, but the wires have never been laid.

"My idea is for this committee to go before the chamber of commerce and the city council and see if something in the way of relief cannot be secured. We ought to go after this thing as though we meant it, and if we do we are liable to get some relief."

An account of the preparations that are being made for the reception of President Harding on August 3, was given by Mr. Twining.

"We are expecting over 100,000 people in Glendale to greet the president," said Mr. Twining. The general committee on preparations in Los Angeles is recommending to inquirers that those wishing to see the president come to Glendale. Spaces for the various cities of Southern California are being assigned along the line of march, and the various societies of this city will be given locations.

"The idea is to mass the children and old soldiers on Brand boulevard between Harvard and Broadway. An archway will be erected on Los Feliz road just east of the Southern Pacific tracks by L. H. Wilson and George Bentley, of the Bentley Lumber company, and another will be built at the eastern city limits. The contract for decorating the streets has been let to the Delco Decorating company. Everyone living along the line of march is asked to decorate their places of business houses and homes as profusely as possible.

A committee consisting of Realtors Bolen, Schuyler and Wende was appointed to investigate the proposition of purchasing all of the property between the Southern Pacific right-of-way and Gardena street, and between Brand boulevard and Eulalia, which, it has been suggested, be secured for park purposes. The matter was brought to the attention of the Realty board by Mrs. Mabel L. Tight, as a representative of the chamber of commerce.

The board modified the action taken several weeks in connection to the present mechanics lien law. At the former meeting the board voted in favor of the repeal of the law, but at yesterday's meeting it was decided that the action of the committee in charge of this work, headed by Charles B. Guthrie, endeavor to have this law amended so as to make it compulsory for the material man to inform the house owner of all materials delivered on any particular piece of work.

A brief talk was given by Joseph R. Loftus of Phoenix, Arizona, who is visiting in Glendale, and A. R. Gilliam of the Gilliam Investment company, and George D. McDill, new member of the organization were introduced.

PASADENA MAN FINED FOR STILL

Russell Richter of Pasadena, who was arrested in Glendale on July 14 and charged with having a whisky still and one quart of liquor in his possession, was fined $50 when he appeared before Judge Lowe this morning and the Dodge commercial car in which he was riding, the still and the liquor were confiscated.

THIEVES VISIT FRUIT STAND ON COLORADO

Thieves broke into the fruit stand of Mrs. R. W. Meeker on the Meeker ranch on East Colorado street between 9 and 10 o'clock Tuesday night, and scattered fruit of various kinds all over the place, according to the Glendale police department.

Sleigh Is Unique Feature at Children's Vaudeville Tonight

One of the pretty properties which will be a feature in the children's vaudeville presented by the Pearl Keller school Thursday evening at the Glendale theatre, is a miniature sleigh, a perfect reproduction of a large one, which is about 100 years old and which has been an heirloom in the family of Mrs. Pearl Keller Brattain for several generations. It will be used in a sleigh ride number in which little Charles Steer of Los Angeles will personate Jack Frost, and will drive reindeers with real horns. Charles spent some time in Siberia and there learned how Jack Frost nips the ears and noses of boys and girls. Little Jean Keleher will be a snowflake. Mrs. Lora Woodhead Steer, mother of Charles, is a sculptor and has been making some garden figures for the new studio Mrs. Brattain plans some time to have.

SPANISH WAR VETS TO ASSIST IN RECEPTION

Committee Named to Cooperate in Decorating Line of March

At the meeting of Spanish War Veterans held Wednesday night several new members were initiated and reports were received relative to returns from the Fourth of July picnic given by the organization and the affiliated auxiliary. These showed receipts of $175, and a committee was appointed to purchase a stand of colors, composed of Past Commander Reeves and Vice Commander Pike, and it is hoped they will be available for use August 3 when President Harding and party will pass through Glendale.

A committee was also appointed to co-operate in the work of securing the decoration of the line of march for August 3, the organization having been assigned the district between Park and Harvard on Brand, which will be canvassed and every resident and business head will be asked to decorate.

The post auxiliary also held a meeting. There was no joint session.

VERDUGO HILLS SWEPT BY FIRE

Largest Brush Blaze of the Season Is Checked by Local Warden

LA CRESCENTA, July 19.—One of the largest brush fires of this season swept over the Verdugo hills Tuesday afternoon. The origin of the fire is unknown and might have been disastrous but for the quick action of C. Jennings Young, local fire warden, who with the assistance of La Crescenta citizens and several truck loads of men from the Southern California Edison Co. and Southern California Gas company, soon had the fire under control. Wednesday morning the fire started again. Mr. Young immediately rushed all available men to the scene and the blaze was soon extinguished. The La Crescenta valley is greatly in need of some systematic means of summoning aid, other than waiting for volunteers to see the smoke and run to the fire of their own accord.

FRED DEAL ANSWERS TWINING

Glendale Exchange Is Among Best in Country, He Says

HAS SPEEDY GROWTH

Canyon Service Awaits on Arrival of Cable, Declares Manager

"It's very easy to sit on the sidelines and throw brickbats," said Fred Deal, local manager of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, today, "but it is another thing to back up your assertions with facts.

"The statements made at the meeting of the Glendale Realty board yesterday to the effect that the telephone service Glendale is getting is 'rotten' is not true and cannot be supported by facts.

"On the other hand, we can prove that the service the Glendale patrons of our company are being given is second to none in this entire country. Instead of having to apologize for the service we are giving, we are proud of it.

"We maintain a daily test service in which we call at random several of our subscribers and inquire of them their opinion of the quality of service they are securing. These subscribers are not 'fixed' in any way. The results of this service show that Glendale stands right up among the top when it comes to efficiency.

"The same is true with our monitor service. Once a week and often more frequently an employe of the company calls in Glendale to test out the service. No one in our office knows this woman or is aware of her visit until the following morning, when the slip showing the result of the tests are received. This monitor has a room all to herself in our building, as she does in the other exchanges she visits. She has her own key and comes and goes without us knowing it. The tests made by this expert show that the Glendale operators are among the most efficient of any crew on the entire system.

"It is true that there has been a hold-up in the stretching of the cable into the Verdugo Woodlands, but is is on account of our inability to get sufficient cable to finish the job. This may come in at any time and when it does the work will be rushed to completion. Then we will be able to give the residents of that canyon individual service if they desire it.

"The poles have been set and the messengers have been strung, so that all that is needed is the stringing of the cable. We are just as anxious to string that cable as are the people of that canyon to have it strung.

"But when someone who may be unreasonable comes along and says the service we are giving is 'rotten,' that's where I buck.

'We have 52 operators on our force and every one of them is trained in her line of work. We maintain a school of training through which the girls must go before they are put on the board. Our operators are careful, courteous and efficient, and I'd like to see anyone find a better bunch of girls. The Glendale branch of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company is considered a model by many of the branches of the system.

'So far as installations in sections other than Verdugo Canyon are concerned I can say that we are making connections just as rapidly as it is possible to make them. Our growth figures will show that we are going some. In 1921 we installed 900 new telephones and in 1922 our gain was another 900. Thus far this year we have installed better than 112 telephones per month, and at the first of this month we had 5,012 connections. My estimate for this year was 1300, but at the rate we are going we will do much better than this.

"All we ask is that the public use a little consideration. The growth this branch is making is almost unheard of and it is natural that at times we would seem a little slow in making connections. But even along the connection line we are taking care of our customers as efficiently and as promptly as many branches that have not half the growth of Glendale.

"No, sir, we do not have to apologize for the service we are giving. It is among the best, and we can prove it."

SCIOTS CALL ALL MASONS TO MEETING

Program of Fine Entertainment Is Prepared for Guests

AT I. O. O. F. HALL

Live Bunch of New Masonic Folks Is Ready for Action

Open house for all Master Masons residing in San Fernando valley will be held at the next regular meeting of Glendale Pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots and a big "turn-out" is anticipated. This meeting will be on Friday, July 20, 1923, at the Odd Fellows hall, 201-A West Broadway, at 7:30 p. m. The committee in charge promises plenty of good music, professional entertainment, smokes and several talks on "Sciots" by the local officers.

The Sciots are said to be the livest bunch of Masons in Southern California. A band was recently organized by the Glendale Sciots and consists of R. D. Crawford, director; G. O. Russell, manager; Chief Fraser, drum major; Joe Johansen, J. A. Becker, J. N. Grindell, N. L. Clark, F. W. Antrim, G. W. Pierce, F. B. Webster, E. H. Holzern, E. R. Naudain, W. B. Turner, C. T. The commitees of the Glendale Sciots are busy getting ready for the big ceremonial to take place some time in the near future. It is said that this will be one of the largest events of its kind ever held in this city. As Glendale has the name of being the fastest growing city in America, so the members of Glendale Pyramid No. 39 feel that it is their duty to hold the honor of having the livest group of Sciots in America, which they state will be possible if every Master Mason gives his co-operation.

GLENDALE DAY AT EXPOSITION TODAY

Glendalians are to have opportunity to demonstrate abroad their loyalty to their home city in attendance today, "Glendale day," at the Monroe Centennial Exposition which is being held at Exposition Park, Los Angeles.

Ralph Brown, who was made chairman of the committee selected to secure a representative program of Glendale talent which should be a credit to the artists and the city, has worked hard and the results are all that the proudest Glendalian could ask for.

It is no small sacrifice for these entertainers, however, to leave their homes and make this contribution and the least Glendalians can do is to turn out in large numbers this afternoon and evening to hear the program and boost for their city and its talent.

Persons who lack autos can go to Eagle Rock, there take the yellow car line and be carried through the business district of Los Angeles to Exposition Park.

The program will open at the women's court at 2 o'clock.

THURSDAY CLUB PREPARES FOR HOME BUILDING

First Unit to Be Constructed Upon Completion of Plans

At a special meeting of members of the Thursday Afternoon club of Glendale, held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, corner of Laurel street and South Brand boulevard, with the president, Mrs. W. C. Mabry, presiding a motion was carried that the members endorse the matter of building the first unit of a clubhouse at as early a date as practical and that plans and method of financing be worked out and presented to the club for approval.

A building committee composed of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, Mrs. E. V. Bacon, and Mrs. W. E. Anderson was appointed to formulate plans and look into costs so as to report at the next meeting of the club. The present ways and means committee was named as a financial committee to look into and formulate plans of financing the building.

Club members were asked to state their preference to Mrs. Bacon as to the committees they wished to work on for the Christmas bazaar. She is planning to hold meetings during the summer to work on articles for this. On Wednesday of next week there will be a handkerchief shower at her home and the afternoon will be spent in needlework.

Mrs. W. C. Mabry announced that President Harding would pass through Glendale August 3 and that the club would endeavor to secure the location on Brand near the P. E. bus station at Cypress. K. C. STAGE BIG STAG MEETING

More Than Four Hundred Attend the Big Event

GOOD BOXING BOUTS

Musical Program Is Big Hit with Star Talent

Fortunate guests who attended the K. of C. stag party at the K. of C. club house on East Lomita Wednesday night report the affair was a wonderful success.

The club house was filled to overflowing and that meant an audience of between 400 and 500.

Ed Albright favored with "The Bedouin Love Song" and an encore song, "Lassie O' Mine."

Jimmy Martin and Jack Roach of Los Angeles, lightweights, put on one of the cleverest boxing exhibitions ever seen in Glendale. The three rounds were fast and furious from start to finish and Martin's "left" was in evidence all the time. Had any decision been rendered the contest would have been pronounced a "draw."

Joe Phillips and Sailor Bray, heavyweights, put on a rattling exhibition in three rounds. Pat Mulligan, former champion of Canada, refereed the bout. Sailor Bray is a wonderful boxer and his work throughout was a revelation. Joe Phillips, who is but a young lad, is also a clever boxer.

King Ame and Prof. Merikame gave a ten-minute exhibition of jui jitsu which held their audience on their tiptoes most of the time, and which demonstrated the remarkable grips and falls of Japanese wrestling. It was the consensus of opinion that such a match is no place for a minister's son. It seemed it would call for a man of iron to stand the blows they received.

A big feature of the evening was Harry James' monologues. He gave about ten minutes to story telling in which he recited the Englishman's account of an American ball game which was received with tremendous applause. Later he responded to a demand for another ten minutes of story telling.

Frank Jewitt and Jack Herrick, heavyweight champion boxer of Panama, and who is acting in the movies with "The Glove Pushers," gave a three-round boxing contest. Herrick is considered on a level with "Bull Montana" in moving pictures. He is a wonderful boxer and as a clown has no superior.

Herrick then gave an exhibition of rope jumping which astonished his audience. No one could have imagined that rope jumping could be made such a scientific proposition as he showed it to be. He also told some Jewish stories that made a great hit, for he is not only a clever boxer but an all-around genius.

The entertainment was conceded to be the best of its kind ever put on in Glendale and seats at the next one will be at a premium.

Announcement was made that next Sunday some of the members of the Glendale Council will go to Pasadena to take the first degree which is being put on by the Pasadena Council.

FERBER'S—SOMETHING DOING ALL THE TIME

DEATH OF ADMIRAL SIGSBEE STIRS MANY MEMORIES

Commanded the Ill-fated Maine When She Was Sunk in 1898

Rear Admiral Charles Dwight Sigsbee, who died today in New York, rose to fame through one of the greatest naval disasters in American history—the "blowing up of the Maine." He was 52 years old at the time; a captain, a veteran of the Civil war, and an inventor of deep-sea exploring and sounding apparatus.

Captain Sigsbee, commander of the Maine, was ordered to Havana harbor to protect American lives and property during the crisis of the Cuban rebellion against Spain in 1898. As the vessel was on a friendly mission, she was received with the customary courtesies from the forts and Spanish war ships, and the usual official visits. She was assigned to a special anchorage and placed there by the proper agents of the Spanish government.

On the evening of February 15 the big white battleship had been riding quietly at anchor for more than two weeks. Captain Sigsbee went to his cabin shortly after 8 o'clock and wrote a long letter to his wife. By the time he had finished many of the 328 men and 26 officers were asleep. The captain had just enclosed the letter in an envelope and started to seal it when a deafening roar sounded through the ship. The great vessel began to list. Groping his way through the dark, Sigsbee reached the deck. A scene of horror greeted him. The Maine was sinking.

"None can ever know," he said later, "the awful scenes of consternation, despair and suffering down in the forward compartments; of men wounded, or drowning in the swirling water, or confined in a closed compartment slowly filling with water. It is comforting to believe, and it is probably true, also, that most of those who were lost were killed instantly."

The tragedy cost the lives of 264 sailors. The news spread over the world in a few hours, but not before the entire American nation was aroused to a pitch of frenzy, believing the Maine had been blown up by hostile Spaniards.

"Suspend judgment," urged Sigsbee in his first report. His calm wisdom did much to prevent the United States from rushing into war immediately. He accompanied the court of inquiry in its investigation of the wreck, and his expert knowledge helped it to arrive at a decision as to the cause of the disaster.

"The question has been asked many times," said the admiral years after the tragedy, "whether I believed then that the Maine was blown up from the outside. My answer has been that my first order on reaching the deck was to post sentries to repel boarders."

Admiral Sigsbee added fresh laurels to his fame in the war that soon followed the disaster. As commander of the St. Paul, a trans-Atlantic liner converted into an auxiliary cruiser, he captured the Spanish collier Restormel, carrying coal to Cervera, and thus sealed the fate of the Spanish fleet at Santiago. The cruiser Isabella II and the destroyer Terror both hauled down their flags and surrendered to him.

The naval career of Sigsbee began when he was a boy of 14 years. Born in Albany, N. Y., in 1845, he entered Annapolis in 1859 and was graduated four years later. He was assigned to the West Gulf Squadron, and at the age of 19 was following Admiral Farragut as an ensign through the battle of Mobile Bay. At 20 he was fighting under Porter at Fort Fisher and at 23 he had been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-commander.

During the 33 years that followed the Civil War, Sigsbee won fame and promotion as an inventor. Among other duties through that period, he was assigned to explore the sea bottom. Here his inventive genius came to the fore and he invented instruments for deep sea exploration that are used today without material change. The German government decorated him with the Red Eagle of Prussia at the suggestion of ex-Emperor William, and he also received a gold medal at the London International Fisheries Exhibition for these achievements.

At the age of 58 Sigsbee was promoted to the rank of Rear Admiral. He rounded out his naval career during its last decade as chief intelligence officer, commander of the League Island Navy Yard, commander of the South Atlantic Squadron, and as commander of the Second Division of the North Atlantic Fleet. On his 62nd birthday, January 16, 1907, he was placed on the retired list of rear admirals.

After leaving active service he frequently appeared in public as a lecturer and also on commissions pertaining to the Maine. He was the author of "Deep Sea Sounding and Dredging," "United States Coast Survey," and "Personal Narrative of the Battleship Maine, 1899."

While on shore duty as a professor at Annapolis in 1870, Admiral Sigsbee married Eliza Rogers Lockwood, daughter of General H. H. Lockwood, U. S. A.

L. EARLE ABEL

The Young Organist Who Will Awaken the Roberts-Morton Organ at the Gateway Theater on Friday.

Music lovers of Glendale doubtless feel that an introduction to L. Earle Abel, famed composer of popular songs and master organist, is a bit unnecessary, particularly as many have heard him play at the California and later at the Kinema in Los Angeles, and his compositions have attracted nation-wide attention.

Nevertheless, as Mr. Abel is to preside at the console of the Robert-Morton organ at the new Gateway theatre which opens at 7 o'clock Friday night, showing Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last." The public will be greatly interested and pleased with the announcement.

Though only 23 years of age, Mr. Abel is already nationally known as a composer, having over fifty compositions to his credit. Among these, perhaps "Somewhere," "You, Just You," "Honeymoon," and "Goodbye Pal" are the best known.

Coupling Mr. Abel's ability with the splendid quality of the organ which has been installed at the Gateway theatre, music of a very superior nature is certain to be heard at the magnificent new theatre, which is located at Brand and San Fernando.

Mr. Abel's career as an organist has been a series of successes which have contributed to his enviable reputation in musical circles and among show lovers. He studied at the Chicago Conservatory of Music, where he received the foundation for his superior type of musical interpretation which forms the chief charm in both his playing and composing. It was after a short career as a church organist that he was lured to the motion picture field, where his success has been unquestioned from the start.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served on small tables, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Hobensack.

'PENROD AND SAM' OPENS ON FRIDAY AT THE T. D. & L.

All roads will lead to the T. D. & L. theater Friday and Saturday from 1:30 in each afternoon, because it will have as its feature attraction another "kid" story by Booth Tarkington. It is "Penrod and Sam," and it was directed for First National by William Beaudine. This picture has met with sensational success in all theaters where it has played to date, and it is said to have an appeal that is limited to no age or class.

Benny Alexander's portrayal of the character of Penrod is without a doubt the best work that this young artist has ever done for the screen. He is a natural actor and can draw tears and evoke laughter with a facility that is uncanny. Joe Butterworth, who is Sam, is equally well cast. Other popular screen kiddies in the picture are Buddy Messinger, Newton Hall, Gertrude Messinger, Joe McCray and Gene Jackson.

"Penrod and Sam" takes one skipping back over the years to childhood days, bringing to life fond memories when one was carefree and joyous.

SANTA CLARA TO HAVE COUNTY FAIR

SAN JOSE, Calif., July 19 (United Press).—The first Santa Clara County Fair in 20 years will be held here on August 11 to 19, it has just been announced. Horse racing, auto racing and athletic events are on the program, as well as the exhibits of the county's products.

Why This Doctor Advises HOKARA
Says It Gives Instant Relief in Many Skin Troubles

It is not often that a doctor comes right out and endorses any preparation but when he does you may be sure it is something out of the ordinary. Read what Dr. Johnson, skin specialist, says about Hokara, the antiseptic, astringent, greaseless Cream:

"For over twenty-five years in my practice I have used many kinds of preparations called 'skin foods,' but never until I found Hokara did I see such beautiful and satisfactory results. I use it on all my patients. It cleanses the skin and makes it soft and fresh looking, but producing firmness and giving power to the tissues. All those to whom I have recommended it are delighted with its use."

If you suffer with skin trouble so that the itching seems almost unbearable and the skin is so broken out that you are sensitive about your appearance, don't think it necessary to use some greasy, vile smelling ointment or salve. Just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Hokara. Jensen Drug Store.—Adv.

SOCIAL PUZZLEMENTS

Twenty-seven men, members of the I. W. W. and active in the practice or advocacy of sabotage, have just been sent to the penitentiary. While it is fortunate for society that there is a law laying hold upon those guilty of such conduct, doubtless this coterie retires with the impression that it is made up of martyrs. They were not tried by the capitalists they hate so cordially, but by men and women chosen at random from all walks of life. They had every privilege of defense that anybody could have sought, but their guilt was clear. Since then a ship has arrived in the harbor in San Pedro, and two sailors been taken from abroad, charged with having so indulged the taste for sabotage as to have prolonged to almost two months a voyage that should have been accomplished in seventeen days, adding much to expense owing to necessity for repairing damage inflicted by them. What do malcontents of this type think they are trying to accomplish? Could they have their way there would be an end to the prosperity in which they might now share were they not too lazy and vicious. If they have a goal, it certainly has not been defined. They seek participation in the affairs of the world. The conduct of such affairs requires brains and character. In both these respects the advocate of sabotage is lacking. He is not fit to be trusted. He is dishonorable and unfaithful. His effort to bring the activities of civilization down to his level manifestly is absurd. Could this be done, there would be no civilization, for civilization is the outgrowth of law and order.

There is no immediate remedy for this type of public enemy other than his imprisonment. By this his malice is curbed if not cured, and he ceases to be a potent influence. The solution, however, is to be sought in a broad education, and touches upon the immigrant problem as well. The country that nurtures ignorance, and imports hatreds, cannot expect to escape the logical result.

THE BAD BOY

Recently a lad of fourteen years was arrested for burglary and arson. He is charged specifically with four robberies, believed to be guilty of more, and there is against him one count of arson. It seems that in the last place visited he had expressed his dissatisfaction with the amount of booty, by setting the premises on fire.

There is a system of child-training that forbids the parent to say "Don't." The infantile mind is to be permitted to expand at will, the young intelligence to develop in accord with latent, but wholly undirected impulse. The natural result of course would be the ruin of the youngster. When baby gets papa's razor, the parent failing to say "Don't," and to take away the dangerous toy, would be too big a fool to have any right to be a parent.

Probably the conduct of the boy-burglar is due to his training or lack of it, although he may be so inherently immoral as not to be amenable to any benign influence. There are such entities born for the affliction of the race. However, they are extremely rare. Generally there is a definite reason why a boy goes wrong. It is not likely that the parents of this youthful criminal had studied the nice system that proscribes their resort to the useful and effective "Don't," but they failed to lay sufficient emphasis on the word. If they outlined a proper course, the chances are that they failed to insist upon obedience. It may be that their "Don'ts" being mere words, might just as well never have been uttered. It is a sad instance in which the first adequate "don't" emanates from the police, and is accentuated by the clanging of a prison door.

LIGHT ON ALASKA

Gold discoveries made Alaska famous in a day. Since the collapse of the mining furore it has in large measure been forgotten, having faded from the picture. The visit to the territory by President Harding serves to revive interest. Alaska is an area of vast expanse, and it is known to have considerable resources quite apart from its precious minerals. The coal deposits there mean more than the gold taken from it in the past.

Many Americans scarcely are aware that the government has built a railroad in Alaska, but it has done so at the cost of many millions. While not constructed on account of the scenery, it is probable that no line in the world exceeds it in scenic beauty. It is for transport and development of Alaskan products. The presidential visit has led to exposure of scandal in connection with the making and operating of the railroad. The present is an excellent time for getting at the facts. It is a case in which there should be hewing regardless of the fall of the chips.

The name of Guggenheim is being dragged into the situation. According to averments, the Guggenheims have been misled into the belief that the creation of this railway was for their personal benefit. It is fair to assure them that such is not the case. To disabuse their minds of an idea so far from correct should be regarded as a duty. The exploitation of Alaska doubtless has been marked by some digressions from moral nicety, but no exploiter could be permitted to use the millions expended by the government as though supplied out of his private capital.

KILLING OF DEER

As the open season for deer approaches, hunters are oiling their guns. Unless stringent measures be taken, deer will vanish from California. The tendency to kill beautiful creatures just because they are alive is so strong that it may be repressed only by severe measures. It is a little hard to understand, but its existence must be acknowledged. Only a few years ago there were great bands of antelope on the plains. Overland travelers saw them from the car windows, and obeying the impulse to useless slaughter, shot at them from the car windows. Now the antelope has disappeared from the plains, and is all but extinct. Soon it will be extinct. So also the deer of California.

During the long closed season the deer that have their habitat close to trails used by hikers grow almost tame. When the time arrives that it is legal to kill the gentle things, the chase has no thrill. The deer stand still and take what is coming. Slaying a nearly tame deer may be sport, but if so the butchery of a calf in the abattoir must be similarly classed.

Deer do no harm. Their presence adds to natural beauty. Other than this they may serve no useful purpose. The song bird is not indispensible. The wild flower may be destroyed without violating any but the aesthetic sense. Nevertheless the destruction of bird and flower is regarded as an exhibition of execrable taste. There is no excuse for killing the few remaining deer. They are not needed for food. They are not sought for market purposes. The process of eliminating them is without any reason that is defensible.

Were the deer given a chance for five years they might increase to the point at which the reduction of the total would cease to have the aspect of wanton cruelty.

There is a roof cafe in New York from which men are barred. That is the easy part of the problem. The difficult part will be to induce the women to be there.

Worthwhile Resolutions

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

For a permanent motto over one's desk I recommend this gem, written by Kwan Yin, a Chinese sage: "Never will I seek nor receive private, individual salvation; never will I enter into final peace alone, but forever and everywhere will I live and strive for the redemption of every creature throughout the world."

Estelle Lawton Lindsey

In those words lies the essence of unselfishness and I do not believe any normal man or woman can read them daily and not react to the spirit of them.

But we in America are a hurried people. We turn blithely to the brief word, the crisp, quick sentence, the shortest way, and so as a recurring new year resolution I'd have young people declare each January:

"I resolve that never again will I be cheap."

At first blush that of itself may seem cheap; but aren't all damaging things, all common things, all mean things just cheap things?

By cheapness I do not mean merely low financial value, though low financial values in goods, at any rate, are generally the result of low mental and spiritual values. The man who makes shoddy goods thinks shoddy thoughts. If you doubt it trot out and look over the people in factories where shoddy things are produced; their phisiognomies, conversation and bearing will prove my point.

What are our youthful delinquents but boys and girls who have permitted themselves to slump down into the easy ways of cheap conduct, cheap moral codes, cheap alliances—those that can be easily and loosely formed and quite as easily and lightly broken?

What fills our divorce courts if not cheap conduct? Read the things that men and women say to each other before and during a trial for divorce. The one thing that stamps them all is an appalling cheapness.

Extra marital kisses, bickerings over money, neglect, reproaches, infidelities, one and all they are cheap.

The world over value and labor go hand in hand; no great thing was ever cheap or the work of cheap people. Building a beautiful character is as truly and laboriously a work of art as the painting of a great picture.

All of the qualities that men honor are the result of effort, all the exquisite relations are the result of adjustment, all the splendid careers are but the blossoms of years applied to training, self control, patience and the scientific study of human relations, business relations or other human contacts.

And so, if in this life I resolved to be anything, I'd resolve first and last to avoid every form of cheapness. I'd give and take only precious values and I'd study to find what precious values are.

In the end I could not go far wrong; and if I were earnest and intelligent I am sure that some day I'd wake and find that while avoiding cheapness I had gone a long way toward the goal of Kwan Yin for I would at least be contributing toward "The redemption of every creature throughout the world."

THE RIGHT WORD

DISCUSSION

(Find the error in this article)

H. H. Harwood, Richmond, Va.: "A few weeks ago I submitted the following construction: 'Who (or whom) do you think I saw today?' and 'I saw the men who were smoking.' You answered: 'Whom is the right word, for, gramatically, you are saying, "You do think I saw whom today?" No comma is necessary in the second sentence.' I thank you; yet you failed to see my point; I inquired about the construction of the sentence, which is paratatical. The correct form is, 'Whom, think you, did I see today?' The Germans habitually construct the question syntactically correctly. Also, the Latin of it would be syntacically correct. A comma is not necessary in the second sentence if the words 'men who were smoking' express one idea; as, a special class of men; smoking men. But a comma is necessary if the words 'who were smoking' are merely descriptive, the meaning of the sentence being, 'I saw the men, not the women or the children, and the men were smoking'."

Properly constructed English has nothing whatever to do with German, Latin, French, or Greek constructions. Call the construction paratactical if you like, but the truth is, as I have already said, that whom is whom because it is the object of saw. (Paratactical means the leaving of logical connections to be supplied by the reader.) The fact that you didn't place no comma after men made it appear that the expression "who were smoking" was intended to identify men; as, The men you saw were those who were smoking. The fact is that the sentence under discussion lends itself to that interpretation better than to any other. Of course if you simply saw the men and not the women and children and incidentally found the men smoking, a comma should follow men.

PRIZE CONTRACTS

Fame and Glory May Await You on the Big Lots

Can you act? Have you ever longed to join the great motion picture world of artists who portray the life of royalty and pain homespun folk in all its vital appeal? If you can act you appear to be natural—not doing the thing the way you think you would respond to a situation but the way the character you portray would feel under the moment of stress.

Ahe you one of the many who have already called at this newspaper to confer with our genial Mr. Mitchell, representative of the greatest, most awe-inspiring, all-embracing motion picture contest ever held?

Every one will receive the same courteous attention from Mr. Mitchell and his able staff of assistants who will assist the contestants in arranging for the film tests to be made under the supervision of seven of the world's leading motion picture magnates, Jesse E. Lasky, Cecil B. De Mille, George Mulford, Herbert Brennan, James Cruze, William De Mille, and Joseph Hannaberry. These men, just mentioned, head the Famous Players, Paramount Pictures and Lasky Corporations and are personally in touch with those winning the favor of a tryout before the camera.

Have you ever heard of a more wonderful opportunity to attain the place in filmland which has been your latent ambition? This newspaper is now offering you just the chance you have been so long looking for. Fame and glory, perhaps, awaits you and all centered in the start which you will be given in this contest.

Another splendid feature of this contest is that the winners representing Glendale will be featured individually on the screen at the T. D. and L. so that all theatregoers will know who are those fortunate ones who are going to represent their city in this great film epoch that is to search out and find the new faces so urgently needed for the future success of the silent drama.

Now, it is not necessary that you be a Rudolf Valentino, a Mary Pickford or a Jackie Coogan. A new era has dawned for the screen and mere beauty no longer holds complete sway. Directors and great film producers are realizing more than ever before the need for real talent, and for types. The day that required doll-faced beauty for the films is passed and the day of just every-day people has begun.

Do not sit in judgment on yourself. You will never know what you can do as a movie actor or actress until you have had your tryout and your test is shown on the silver sheet.

So, come one, come all- All aboard for the Glendale Press Movie Contest! We're off and there's room for all to get in irrespective of age, color, position, or looks! Let's go! See Mr. Mitchell, movie representative, in room 2, Glendale Press.

BRAND MARKET IS COMPLETE IN ITS OFFERS

Four concessions at the Brand Central market, 207 North Brand, including a meat market, grocery department, bakery, and lunch counter, contrive to make this market a most complete place where all table necessities may be procured.

The meat market is the first counter reached, as one approaches from the south. Wm. Schmidt, proprietor, is offering a complete line of high grade fresh and cured meats at standard prices. Excellent refrigerator arrangements make service from this department entirely satisfactory.

A host of fresh vegetables and tempting fruits are offered at the fruit stand owned by M. Wideman. While most of the vegetables come from surrounding truck gardens, melons and tomatoes, for the most part, are now shipped from Imperial Valley.

Delicious fresh bakery goods may be had at the bakery booth adjoining the vegetable stand. This bakery is owned by Mrs. C. W. Crossman and F. J. Malone, and is offering cakes and breads that customers state are just like the home-made variety.

R. D. Estes is proprietor of the grocery department. Standard canned goods and groceries in bulk are offered at attractive prices. Frank Polleys conducts the soft drink stand and lunch counter occupying a central position at the rear of the store. This is an especially inviting spot in the market, where the tired shopper may stop to rest and partake of cooling refreshment.

BUYING A HOME?
READ THIS FIRST
Here is the best buy we have had for a long time for the man who wants room for his family, for garden and chickens or for to build income in the futre.
The lot has a frontage of 80 feet, depth 160 feet; it is fenced, with space for children's playground and another for chickens. Beautiful lawn, orange, grapefruit, apple and plum trees, nice garden growing.
The house is modern; living room, dining room, bedroom, sleeping porch, kitchen, bath, screen porch with laundry tray. Not new, but in excellent condition.
In the back yard is an up-to-date tenthouse, with floor; a real place for the children to sleep, with electric lights and everything to make it comfortable. Large garage.
The location is ideal, close to grade and intermediate schools, not far from high school.
Fortunately for the buyer, we are able to offer this place at a price lower than that of anything in Glendale which in any way compares with it. It will be sold to the first man who sees it, who is looking for property of this kind.
Price only $5250; about $2000 cash. Tawe our word for it, this is a buy.

FEDERAL TRUST BUSTERS COMING TO CALIFORNIA

Cement Manufacturers, Raisin Growers, Canners and Lumbermen to Be Investigated

BY WILLIAM J. LOSH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The federal government's trust-busting drive today was in motion with renewed vigor.

Following a lull of several months, in which no suits were filed, the department of justice has now gone into the courts with a petition asking the dissolution of the International Harvester Corporation, which it charges, continues to operate in restraint of trade, despite decrees ordering the activities curtailed.

Within the next few weeks similar actions will be taken against Pacific Coast cement manufacturers and raisin growers, and probably fish canners and lumbermen, it is understood. Certain manufacturers of automobile accessories also are said to be on the slate for government attack.

Attorney General Daugherty put in motion the campaign against "industrial octopuses" soon after he took office. Among the anti-trust actions filed in the last two years are those against northwest lumber associations, Ohio glass manufacturers, pottery makers and the Southern Pacific railroad.

275 PUPILS IN SUMMER SCHOOL SESSION

Classes Arouse Special Interest; Manual Training and Cooking

Mrs. H. S. Reed, principal of the Eagle Rock summer school, reports an enrollment of 275 pupils. All of these are accomplishing much in their course of study. They are showing a more industrious spirit, and more eagerness in the summer work, than in the regular school session.

A special interest is to be noted in Mr. Kuhnle's manual training classes. The models which he uses in his training have so aroused the boys' interest that they crowd his workroom at recesses. The city has sent out a higher grade of lumber and paint for the manual training work than was used formerly, and new equipment is being added. There will be ample facilities for the sloyd work, and it is expected that the students during the summer session will turn out some worthwhile and well-finished products.

Pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are permitted to take sloyd at least one period a week. If the boys keep their class work up to standard they are permitted two periods.

Another course added to the summer work is one in domestic science. It might appear that nearly every child is domestically inclined from the enthusiasm with which they enter into the instruction on canning, camp-cooking, etc. And this applies to boys as well as to the girls. There is one class of eighteen boys who have already learned to bake biscuits like "mother used to make," and perhaps a little more to their interest they have been taught to twist dough around a stick and bake it over an open fire, when out on a camping trip.

In the girls' classes every table is filled and the pupils are getting some really valuable fundamental lessons. All the students in the summer school are evidencing a most energetic interest in their work, according to Mrs. Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hickman of 123 West Laurel street left Wednesday morning on a motor trip to Santa Barbara and other places of interest, including the Big Trees. They will be gone about a week.

LITTLE BILL

Little Bill with dirty face,
Stumbling, falling in the race,
Getting him a bloody nose
When he battles with his foes;
Burned by sun and stung by bees,
Scratches on his hands and knees,
Freckled cheeks and peeling nose,
And stonebruises on his toes,
Comes up smiling.

Little Bill, with many a scratch
From the thorny berry patch,
Lips and cheeks all stained with juice,
Straw hat brim all torn and loose,
Trousers held up by a nail,
With a bent tin berry pail,
Fish hook in his chubby thumb,
Has a merry tune to hum,
Comes up smiling.

Little Bill, who slips and falls
From the trees and garden walls,
Gets his breath knocked out and then
Up he gets and on again;
Ready for a romp, a run,
Anything beneath the sun,
And what happens in the game,
Grins and takes it just the same,
Comes up smiling.

Little Bill, the grit and smile
Will come handy after while,
In the great big world out there
With its struggle everywhere.
So be merry, so be true,
What the thing may come to you,
Meet it, greet it, great or small,
And if many times you fall,
Come up smiling.

ADJACENT CITIES ASKED TO AID IN RECEIVING HARDING

At the meeting held Tuesday at the office of Ralph Arnold, head of the committee of arrangements for President Harding's itinerary in Southern California, the committee voted to extend an invitation to all cities not on the line of march to participate with Glendale on Aug. 3, by sending decorated cars, in which the officials of the cities would ride, to be lined up facing the presidential party to the end that all the cities of Southern California may be a unit in extending a welcome to the chief executive and his lady. Secretary Sanders who attended the meeting as the representative of Mayor Robinson was made chairman with authority to select his own committee to assist in the extending of this invitation. The invitation of the Los Angeles committee is being supplemented by an invitation from the mayor of this city to join with Glendale in honoring the president.

At a meeting of the San Fernando Valley chambers of commerce held last night at Owensmouth which was attended by Secretary Sanders, these invitations were extended to the eleven cities represented by their chamber delegates, and were received with enthusiasm. Mayor Robinson is inviting the cities to visit Glendale enmasse and take part in the events of the day.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called Allenrhu, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhu with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment. Roberts & Echols can supply you.—Advt.
